

America needs a change in its politics

The offer by Russia to treat Biden's mental condition, is a clever move to highlight what the world and Americans already know and that is: Biden is suffering from dementia; his mental faculties are declining fast, he is no longer in charge of his country; it's his aides, like the glib talking Obama and his advisers from the war rooms, that are pushing America into this war because they want to make Ukraine their 52 state to capture all their natural resources, like gas and oil.

Why do we need a world leader, like America, which is owned and run by a few corrupt individuals and corporate businesses to dictate to the rest of the world how to run our countries?

Surely each nation should have the right to decide with whom they should trade with and on what terms.

In the last seventy years America has interfered in the sovereignty of a number of countries by unilaterally removing legitimate leaders like Gaddafi and Saddam Hussein on false premises.

This proxy war that is being protracted by the US, which forced NATO countries in the west to enter into, has been lost against Russia. This war has proved how ineffective NATO and the UN are to bring about world peace.

Russia is only doing what America would do: protect its borders. Zelensky is not a leader but a clown and maniac that turned millions of his citizens into refugees and lost 200k able bodied soldiers. Now he is sending young teenagers and women to fight a war that he has no hope of winning.

The UN is a typical toothless dog that is incapable of bringing an end to this war.

Taking Putin out of the equation and replacing him with one of Washington's lackeys, like Zelensky, is not the solution.

Europe and the UK are suffering from unstoppable inflation, shortage of fuel and food as they approach another severe winter ahead in the next seven months.

Russia has, in the meantime, found several other willing markets to sell their oil and gas to major economies like India, China and even Japan.

America needs a new type of leader that respects the country's constitution and its citizens' right to freedom of speech, movement and privacy.

The two party system is an absolute failure in America. They are six of one and half a dozen of the other. Big corporates and wealthy individuals control the government in the US and many other democracies in the world.

We, as citizens of the world lost out, not the scum politicians.

We need peace now more than ever to put an end to the misery of people around the world.

The rise of a number of candidates bidding for the position to become the next president in the US is a clear sign that the two party system is a failure. The corporates' and the military's power must be curtailed if Americans wish to enjoy the democracy that their forefathers envisaged for them.
