Always Ask

Senior discounts are not always openly advertised. It is recommended that you ask about whether or not the store offers the discount every time you make a purchase.

Do You Qualify?

Most senior discounts are open for everyone, but please note that some discounts has additional requirements and terms. We do our best to try to tell you everything you need to know in this book, but since companies update their promotions and policies so often, always make sure you double check with the company or store in question.

Proof of Age

Always carry ID so you can prove our age when asked. Every discount in this book contains the required minimum age so you know if you quality for the discount.

Help Improve This Book

Something changes daily in this crazy world, and we need your help to keep up. If you know a discount we should add, or if you see incorrect information here, send us an email at deals@coupon65.com and we will correct it right away.

Price Matching

Most stores out there does not offer any senior discounts, but some of them offer price matching, which often includes senior discounts! So if you wish that a certain company had lower prices for seniors, maybe the offer price matching? If they do, check this list if there is a competitor with a senior discount for you!

Talk to the Manager

There isn't a single successful company in Australia which does not listen to their customers. If you recommend that they start offering a senior discount, in most cases the company executives will discuss how and if they can do it. You may not get a yes immediately, but a few weeks down the line, you might be lucky. If not, keep asking in a friendly and encouraging way. Suggest that they might offer it one day a week or month, on specific products.. and remember, make sure you explain how much you appreciate and like the company in question.

Senior Benefits

Sometimes a company can go the extra mile for you even if it is not in the form of a discount. Sometimes it's a free coffee, complimentary use of toilet, shorter time waiting in queue, free cancellation fees.. Always ask if they do something extra for seniors, and if not, suggest that they do in a friendly and grateful way! Most younger people really appreciates the good manners of old, so use this to your advantage :)

Government Concessions

As you are probably aware, the Australian government offers concessions for all kinds of services to seniors. However, odds are that you don't know every concession you are eligible to receive. The list of available savings are different depending on where you live. Find concession rates for hospital parking, public transport, electricity, gas, water, taxis, motor vehicle registration and more at the link below:

Senior Cards

The Seniors Card is the ultimate way to get discounts. Each state and territory has its own Seniors Card, with some reciprocal arrangements for using your card when travelling in other states. In a nutshell, it's a free card that gives you transport concessions and access to discounts from participating businesses on a range of goods and services. While the majority of the eligibility criteria in each state are the same, some points may differ slightly so make sure you check out your state-specific eligibility below.

Although Seniors Cards are issued by States/Territories, businesses (including tours, attractions and accommodation) in one state will usually recognise cards from another. Shops frequently display a 'Seniors Card Welcome' sticker.

Australian Capital Territory: To be eligible for an ACT Seniors Card you must be over 60 years of age, a permanent resident of the ACT and not be in more than 20 hours of paid employment a week. There are about 300 government and non-government businesses that make up the participation organisations that can give you a number of benefits and discounts on goods and services in the ACT. For more information head to the ACT Seniors Card website.

New South Wales: To qualify for the NSW Seniors Card you must be a permanent resident of the state, aged 60 or over and working no more than 20 hours a week. At the moment there are more than 1.4 million members of the NSW Seniors Card scheme, and over 3,500 businesses participating. You can find out more at the NSW Seniors Card website.

Senior Cards

Northern Territory: For those in the Northern Territory (NT), if you are a permanent resident and 60 years of age or older you'll be eligible for a Seniors Card. You can also get a $55 annual concession on your registration for a private vehicle. There is more information at the NT Government website. In addition, the NT also provides a Pensioner and Carer Concession Scheme with financial subsidies as concessions to members for a range of goods and services. The scheme acts as an incentive for people to stay in the NT during retirement, helping all pensioners – but particularly those who are low-income earners and carers.

Queensland: If you're a permanent resident of Queensland you're eligible for a Seniors Card if you are 65 years or older and working less than 35 hours a week in paid employment. Or, if you're between 60–64 years and working less than 35 hours a week in paid employment, you're eligible if you also hold one of the following: a Commonwealth Pensioner Concession Card, a Commonwealth Health Care Card, a Commonwealth Seniors Health Card or a Department of Veterans' Affairs Gold, White or Orange card. Head to the State Government website to find out more.

South Australia: There are three criteria in South Australia to ensure you're eligible for a Seniors Card. You must be aged 60 years or older, a permanent resident of the state and not working more than 20 hours a week in paid employment. There is no income or pension limit and you can find out more on the scheme on the website.

Senior Cards

Tasmania: Similar to South Australia, in Tasmania you must be aged 60 or over, a permanent resident of the state and working no more than 20 hours per week in paid employment. Currently in Tasmania there are more than 102,000 registered cardholders and over 700 businesses supporting and participating in the scheme. Check out the Tasmanian Government website to find out more.

Victoria: For those in Victoria, to be eligible for a Seniors Card you must be 60 years of age and over, a permanent resident living in the state and working less than 35 hours per week in paid employment, or fully retired. Benefits include discounts from participating business, concessions on public transport, a free Seniors myki and exemption from a fishing licence to fish in Victorian waters. To find out more, head to Seniors Online Victoria.

Western Australia: In Western Australia you need to be aged 61 years or older, a permanent resident of the state and working less than 25 hours per week, averaged over a 12-month period. Head to the WA Seniors Card website to find out more.

Mature-aged workers: The Restart allowance may be of benefit to you if you've been out of work for more than six months, or you're an employer. The Restart wage subsidy is a payment of up to $10,000 for a business that employs eligible mature-aged job seekers for 12 months or more.

Senior Cards

Accessing your superannuation: Whether you're working or not, you can access your superannuation when you reach the age of 65. Between 60–64 years of age, you can access your superannuation if you have stopped working or never intend to work for more than 10 hours a week. There are limits to how much you can access on a regular basis, with details on the Australian Tax Office website.

Age Pension: This is something you can't technically access until you're 65, and this age will continue to go up from this year onwards, with the age increasing to 65 years and six months from 1 July 2017. The qualifying age will then increase by six months every two years to reach 67 years by 1 July 2023. To be eligible, you also have to meet an income and assets test. Find out more on the details at the Department of Human Services website.

Pensioner Concession Card: You are eligible for a Pensioner Concession Card at any age if you receive payments including the Age Pension, Bereavement Allowance, Carer Payment or a Disability Support Pension. Further details on the concessions, including bulk billing for doctor appointments and higher Medicare benefits, can be found on the Department of Human Services website.

Commonwealth Seniors Health Card: To qualify you must be of Age Pension age and meet the income test and residence requirements. It provides discounts on Pharmaceutical Benefits Scheme (PBS) prescription medicines, as well as discounts or concession including bulk billed doctor appointments and cheaper out-of-hospital medical expenses.

Nooro Knee Massager — This Device Helps Alleviate Pain and Swelling in Just 15 Minutes a Day.

If you are suffering from chronic knee pain, chances are that's because the cartilage cushioning your knee joints is worn down.

This leads to grinding bone-on-bone knee pain, swelling, and instability in your knees.

When this happens, simple everyday activities like driving, getting up and down stairs, and even sleeping can become incredibly uncomfortable.

The pain takes away your freedom, your independence, and your ability to do the things you love. You feel trapped in your own body, unable to enjoy normal daily activities that you once took for granted.

The good news is that this condition can be reversible.

Transportation Discounts

Public Transportation: These discounts for senior citizens are actually not a secret. There are special fares available throughout Australia, although they vary depending on the state. Some require a bit of pre-planning but the savings make it worthwhile. If you're heading interstate, make sure you know how to access these discounts. Here's the basic information you need to know. In some states, seniors can take an advantage of up to 50% discount on full fares, the ticket prices usually vary between $2.40-$2.80. You should remember though, to be able to use those discounts you would have to get a public transport card that is valid in the specific state - it's not that complicated since retailers could be found all over the cities. There are also specific times in each state when senior citizens are able to travel completely free! For example, in Western Australia you can travel for free from first service until 6am, from 9am until 3.30pm, from 7pm until last service, all day Saturday, Sunday and on public holidays.

Tvidler - Earwax Build Ups Might Be The Cause Of Your Impaired Hearing

Cotton Swabs are not designed for ear cleaning, actually they do the opposite: ear wax is pushed further down the ear canal and not taken out. Furthermore, they may damage your inner ear. The signs and symptoms of this condition include dizziness, ringing sensation in the ears, pain and hearing loss.

A far safer and better alternative to cleaning your ears is the Tvidler. Not only does it reach deeper than a cotton swab can, but it rotates to remove more buildup from the sides of your ear canals. Tvidler tool removes any dried wax stuck inside your ears along with any other debris trapped in your ears.

Synoshi — Handheld Spin Scrubber Makes Cleaning Effort-Free

One of the main reasons why Synoshi is so effective at preventing dangerous mold and bacteria is that the power brush is designed to reach the most hard-to-reach spots where dangerous mold and bacteria like to grow.

Mold and bacteria love areas that are moist, damp, humid, and dark. There are plenty of corners, cracks, and crevices in your kitchen and bathroom that fit this description perfectly.

It is not enough to clean these types of areas with a dishrag soaked in hot water. Additionally, other types of cleaning tools may not be able to get down deep into these types of hard-to-reach areas, and if they do, they are mildly effective if at all.
